

Example of another phishing email. Do you see the tell-tale signs that it is fake?

“Hi dear”

The word “risk” is spelled “ricks”

And, most of all: I, as the receiver, do not have a Square account. – Matt T

The screenshot shows a phishing email from Square. The header includes a profile picture of a person, the name "Square", and a long email address: <IMCEAEX-_O=CHOST_OU=EXCHANGE+20ADMINISTRATIVE+20GROUP+20+28FYDIBOHF2. Below the header is the subject line "Negative Feedback Received" and a small icon of two people with a zero. A blue information icon is followed by the text "If there are problems with how this message is displayed, click here to view it in a web browser." The main body of the email starts with "Hi dear," followed by a paragraph: "You recently have a negative feedback from a customer about the delay of their orders . Negative feedback could put your business at ricks." Below this is the "Feedback Reason:" section, which states "Delay of goods/services". Another paragraph follows: "We require our users to deliver their goods within a week to meet with their customers satisfaction. Please take a moment to respond to this feedback now." A blue button with the text "RESPOND TO FEEDBACK" is positioned below the paragraph. The email concludes with "We greatly appreciate your response.", "Thanks,", and "The Square Team".
